About Gary...

Gary started his golf career in 1997 at Kings River Country Club, working as a pro shop assistant for 8 years, under well-respected professionals Chuck Blanks and Steve Pellegrine.

Gary joined River Park Golf Center in 2004 eager to learn, wanting to further his career in teaching and the golf industry. Working side by side with well-respected teaching professionals Cindy Vining and Chris Doos, Gary has developed a complete and comprehensive teaching method. His background as a competitive golfer gives him the ability to offer insight into all different aspects of the game, including the necessary mental, physical, and technical skills to take true beginners and elite players to the next level.

In 2011, Gary took the position of Director of Golf at River Park Golf Center, managing and working the day to day operations. River Park Golf Center was closed at the end of 2017. In January of 2018, Gary was retained by Valley Golf Center as the Director of Golf, which was a natural transition.

Now with over 20 years under his belt in the golf industry, Gary is most excited for what the future holds.
